

2023 Annual Report

Providing Quality Reproductive and Sexual Health Care for 40 Years

Message from the Executive Director

Sandi Denoncour
Executive Director

We are so pleased to share our 2023 annual report. The Lovering experienced a successful year of growth serving 59% more patients in 2023 than in 2022. We introduced new access programs, grew existing services including perimenopause and menopause care, saw a 120% increase in transgender care visits, and became a medical residency training site to teach forward the patient-centered model of care provided by our team.

Our determination to grow, not shrink, under incredible pressure both politically and fiscally fueled our ability to increase billable services and find new opportunities to support low and moderate-income patients. Our determination to protect abortion access and serve ALL was met again this year with equal determination from our supporters, volunteers, and community grant funders. And together we serve and grow with joy, mutual respect, and compassion.

It feels like there is no more important work to be done in 2024 than advocacy. The past two years highlight how volatile and constant advocacy work is for the Lovering and for our colleagues across the state and the nation. Collectively we must elect leaders who will:

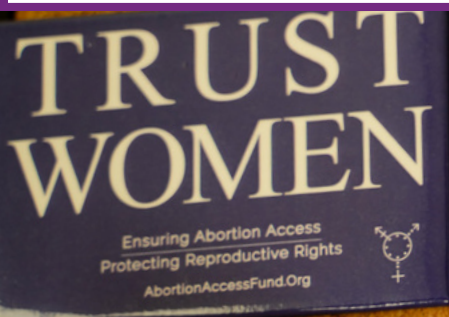

- protect and affirm our rights to bodily autonomy
- protect the rights of our LGBTQ+ friends to thrive in our schools and communities
- protect and fund access to the highest quality sexual and reproductive health care we can provide and
- advance equitable access to care for all.

This past year, at both our Champions for Choice and Cheers for Choice events, we invited community members to discuss what advocacy today looks like, how to elevate our voices, and how to collaborate in ways that offer everyone an opportunity to voice their support and contribute to making change. We introduced our newest partner, Reproductive Equity Now, and I encourage you to read more about them in this report and connect with them to stay informed about the important work we will be doing together.

We commit to maintaining a positive, healthy, and affirming space to provide care for you, your family, your neighbors, and our community in 2024. I hope that you will feel the impact your support makes as you read this year's report. Journal entries from our patients, testimonials from volunteers and colleagues, and data are all included to highlight the beautiful complexity of our work as an independent clinic.

Thank you for your commitment to the Lovering and to our mission.

In Solidarity,
Sandi Denoncour
Executive Director

Board Leadership & Strategic Direction

“ Since the start of my tenure on the Board of Directors in 2022, I have been struck by the level of compassionate care delivered by our staff to our patients. This unique culture of intentional, patient impact-centered leadership of our Executive Director, Sandi, and transcends throughout the entire organization, including the Board of Directors. In speaking with community partners, staff and volunteers, it is evident our model of care has a lasting impact on the lives of our patients.

I am excited about our strategic direction. As we look forward to expanding our impact in the community, thoughtfully scaling our programs and services, and reducing barriers to care, all the while carefully managing our capacity, we remain committed to keeping our patients and community needs front and center.

I am so proud to be a part of this incredible organization and look forward to the future.

Strategic Direction

In 2023 we began working through a strategic planning process which has allowed us to articulate organizational priorities and build on the amazing work we do to continue to serve the community in the most effective way.

To gain deeper insight into the community's perceptions and experiences, we interacted with a variety of people affiliated with the Lovering and within the community to understand the Lovering's position, and to elicit feedback on the most significant community needs.

With expanded provider hours and increased patient volume, the amount of free care we provide also increases.

As an independent clinic with no current state or federal funding, donations and grant funds directly support low income community members receiving the care they need.

Program Growth

NH Breast and Cervical Cancer Program (BCCP)

“ This program is designed to assist people with the cost associated with breast and cervical cancer screening and it is all based on your income, even if you have insurance. BCCP has allowed us to be able to take the financial burden off our patients and increase access. I’ve really enjoyed seeing how much it is helping our patient population. We have one patient who speaks English as a second language and she had a breast mass. We were able to get all her services covered. This program is just amazing. ”

-Ilyssa, Nurse Manager and BCCP Coordinator

AVITA Pharmacy- Where You Fill Makes a Difference

One way that our patients pay it forward

When our patients use AVITA to fill prescriptions written by Loving providers, revenue is shared back to the Center to invest in services and program growth.

“ Avita Pharmacy shares Loving Health Center’s passion for honoring, respecting, and advocating for patient freedom of choice in sexual and reproductive health. Avita is committed to providing culturally competent LGBTQ+, HIV, PrEP, and sexual wellness care and is proud to partner with an organization that is working towards this mutual goal. ”

I was excited to pursue a partnership with LHC when I got to know Sandi and understood her team’s intense focus on what was best for their patients. Avita’s discreet, free, at-home prescription delivery was the right fit for many LHC patients. ”

Volunteerism

“ Feeling helpless when Roe v. Wade was overturned, it didn't take long for me to realize there was something an ordinary person like me can do, right here in NH, where sexual health is holding on by a thread.

The Lovering Health Center is a beacon of hope for both patients and community members who still believe in the freedom to choose our personal health journey. As a volunteer, I have been invited to participate in campaigns aimed at furthering The Lovering's mission and reach. I have met and seen up close the staff in action and have a new understanding of the extensive health services our LGBTQ+, reproductive, and menopausal community have come to rely on and deserve.

The Lovering Health Center is taking on the world by making a difference one very special person at a time, and I am honored to help wherever I can.

-Fawn, Volunteer

The Lovering relies on community involvement to maintain our feminist values and achieve our mission.

We aim to cultivate an organizational culture that values peer-to-peer support and having volunteers on site is essential to this goal.

Teaching it Forward

“ Family medicine resident physicians from the Lawrence Family Medicine residency are now completing a rotation at the Lovering focusing on gender-affirming care and reproductive health. The rotation has rapidly gained an almost cult following and the residents consistently say it is one of the best experiences they've had in residency.

Lovering offers our residents a unique opportunity to learn high-volume gender-affirming care and reproductive care from experts in the field while also experiencing the exceptional culture of queer affirmation and body positivity that the staff bring to every patient encounter. Such experiences are seldom found in the conventional spaces that train future physicians.

Christina Warriner, NH State Director of Reproductive Equity Now, speaks at the 2023 Cheers for Choice Event

“Lovering is a truly exceptional example of the kind of gutsy, compassionate, people-first care that independent clinics are known for. The Lovering not only provides health care, but they provide community care. We are so grateful to work with the talented team at Lovering who focuses specifically on harm reduction, inclusivity, and building trust with both their patients and the communities they serve.”

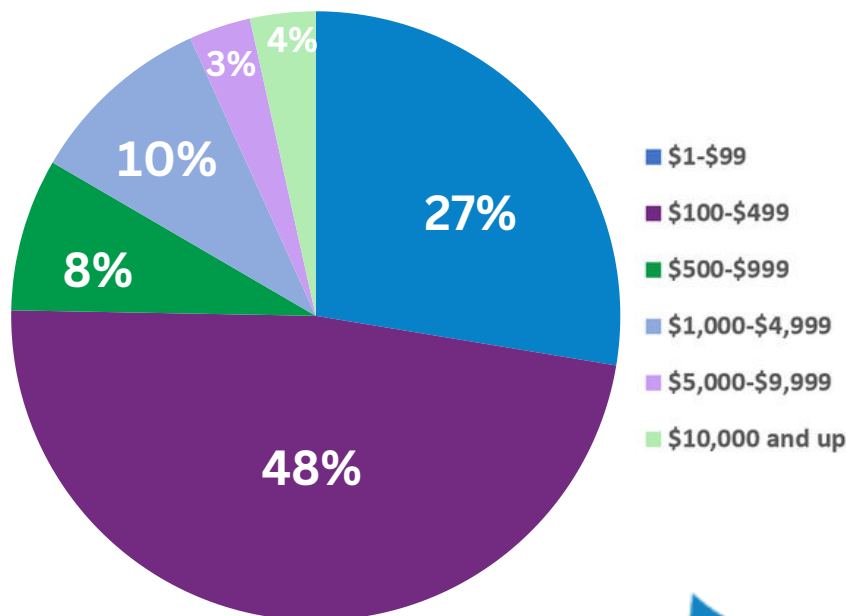

Reproductive health care, sexual health care, queer health care, and abortion care are all part of the shared fight to make dignified choices about our bodies, on our own terms, with a supportive team. That is what the Lovering Health Center is fighting to do every single day here in New Hampshire.
